com journalist, Aisha Curry, to write her own story. How will Aisha celebrate her 25th birthday without her mother, much less her future? With divorce, marriage and motherhood all on her plate, she'll need to stay upbeat, find true love, and prove she can write about it all. But first she must outrun her mother, catch up with estranged friends, and sort out what's real and what's not. OutRun Her Mother: Wedding Dash 4-Ever 2 Aisha Curry knows the perils of getting on a bike with no hands, so she takes the bus to New York City's most notorious bike path for a daily workout. And today, she's got her eyes on a new road less traveled: a divorcee with four kids. She'll have to play by her rules to land the piece she needs. But what she never expected is the man who'll teach her the rules of life-and love. Heads You Lose: Wedding Dash 4-Ever 3 Aisha Curry is a professional matchmaker. When she meets the man of her dreams, she becomes a little infatuated with him. But it's not his looks that hold her attention, but his blue-collar family values. How can she resist settling down in his perfect town and wining and dining him in his perfect family? But the moments that brought them together couldn't have lasted long, unless she'd opened her heart to let him in. Heads You Win: Wedding Dash 4-Ever 1 Aisha Curry needs to decide if she's willing to live her life with her head up her...sleeve, or her heart. As she's negotiating the exigencies of a date she had no idea she needed, she gets a call to marry her high school boyfriend. Of course, when that call comes, he's not her boyfriend anymore...and neither is her "Papa." And while she's trying to put her plan into action, she doesn't know what to do about her best friend, who's getting engaged to her worst enemy. The Diary of Me: Wedding Dash 5-Ever Aisha Curry has the job of her dreams, and the man of her dreams, but she's going to have to get both to marry them. Too bad she's three years past her "halfway" date. How did she go so wrong? Thankfully, the Christmas season is in full swing, so she's in the right mood 82157476af
